CITY TALKS GAS

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF AN- OTHER PUBLIC UTILITY IS THE PROGRAM

At the meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Glendale on Monday evening the subject of municipal ownership of gas came up for discussion. For about six months the Southern California Gas company has been making strenuous efforts to cut into the paved streets on Brand boulevard and Broadway for the purpose of making connections from their main gas line to business houses on these streets.

Before these streets were paved the gas company was asked to extend pipes to the curb line, thus avoiding the necessity of cutting the paving in order to make gas connections. The city trustees have made every effort possible to influence the gas company to make connections from alleys in the rear of lots, and so avoid marring the appearance of the well-paved streets, but the company has refused to listen to the suggestions from the trustees, and seem more interested in their own welfare than they do in the beautiful appearance of the streets.

The trustees are of one opinion that the only way to protect our streets from the rashness of the Southern California Gas company is for the city to take over its pipe lines and all of its gas interests in the city of Glendale.

City Attorney W. E. Evans, City Manager T. W. Watson, City Engineer Edward M. Lynch and H. B. Lynch, manager of the public service department, were appointed a committee to ascertain as to the value of the gas company's holdings in Glendale. Upon receipt of a report from this committee it has been suggested that a mass meeting of the citizens of Glendale be called, hoping that the actions of the citizens in that meeting will favor purchasing the interests of the gas company in this city. The price of the gas company's interests would eventually be fixed by the state railroad commission.

The municipal ownership of light in Glendale for the past six years has been a great success, and the municipal ownership of the water plants which are being taken over by the city shows evidence of being a great saving to the consumers of water, and now the trustees think that it is for the city's best interests to own and control the gas supply for the city.

HANALEI WRECKED

The fate of the little steamer Hanalei of the Independent Steamship company and her sixty-one passengers and crew, is yet not fully known. The little steamer was lured to destruction on the rocks near Duxbury Reef not far from San Francisco. Five men lost their lives Monday night while attempting to rescue passengers and crew from the ill-fated boat.

Off the fringe of the outer reef, unable to lend assistance because of the heavy swell, three steamers—the United States naval auxiliary Rainbow and the oil-tankers Richmond and El Segundo—are waiting for the impenetrable mist to lift and reveal the tragedy. Until the fog is dissipated the only hope for those on the steamer is the shore side, and, while every effort is being put forth from the beach, aid may come too late.

Two hundred people kept watch along the beach Monday night, when hundreds of signal fires marked the shoreline.

REMOVE SIDEWALK SIGNS

At Monday evening's meeting of the city trustees the question of keeping signs and merchandise off of the sidewalks came up for discussion. Mayor Lane favors ordering all signs and pieces of merchandise removed from the sidewalks. Certain members of the trustees were of the opinion that the merchants should be consulted on this question before any action is taken by the board.

The gasoline supply tanks being given a position at the curb line on the sidewalks was also taken up for discussion. Two firms, Johnson & Lyons and the Overland Garage Co., made application for the installation of gas supply tanks. The applications were laid on the table for one week.

RALPH FARRIS REPRIEVED

Governor Johnson has granted to Ralph Farris, slayer of Horace Montague on a Southern Pacific train near El Monte, about a year ago, and who was to have hung on November 27, a reprieve to January 15. The date of execution was postponed on representations made by Judge Wheaton Gray of Los Angeles.

NEW BUSINESS CONCERN

THREE GLENDALE MEN FORM PARTNERSHIP AND EMBARK IN BUSINESS HERE

This community has a new business firm known officially as the Scovern, Letton, Frey Undertaking company and composed of Louis G. Scovern, W. R. Letton and R. E. Frey, all of whom are residents of this city. The new firm are nicely located in temporary headquarters at 120 West Cypress street, Tropico, and arrangements have already been made for a new building, which will be erected at once on Brand boulevard near Park avenue. This building will of course be equipped in accordance with the most modern undertaking methods, and an auto hearse and auto ambulance have been ordered and will be used exclusively for the purposes for which they are intended.

Mr. Scovern, who is manager of the company, is an undertaker of experience. He has been connected with the Pulliam company in Glendale for nearly four years and prior to that worked for W. G. Noble in the undertaking business in San Fernando. Mr. Scovern's uniform courtesy has had not a little to do with his success in his chosen work.

Mr. Letton is also an experienced undertaker, having been in that business in Missouri for several years before coming here. At present he is president of the Casler-Letton Lumber company of Los Angeles.

R. E. Frey, the third member of the firm, is a well-known banker and was for many years in that business at Carthage, Mo., before coming here four years ago.

This firm will have one of the best equipped outfits for properly conducting an undertaking establishment in this part of the state and the new building will be an addition to that part of the community in which it is located. At present they are located at 120 West Cypress.

SERIOUS MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

A serious as well as a painful motorcycle accident occurred in Burbank this morning. Mr. Herman Edgerly of that city left his automobile standing near the well-known Turkey crossing, where the San Fernando road crosses the tracks of the Southern Pacific. J. F. Marshall, who resides in Pasadena, rounded the curve on his motorcycle and crashed into the automobile. Marshall was picked up and taken to the Thompson hospital, where he received medical attention, and it was found that his right wrist was badly sprained, both legs cut and he had received other injuries, so that he will be confined to the hospital for some time. The motorcycle was a complete wreck.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

The Monday Auction Bridge Luncheon club was entertained at the home of Mrs. C. M. Good, 875 South Louise street, Monday. The house decorations and luncheon were all in Thanksgiving colors and after luncheon bridge was played, the prize going to Mrs. Beach, as usual. The following members of the club were present: Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, Mrs. Willis Kimball, Mrs. H. Woolsey, Mrs. D. H. Smith, Mrs. J. Hubbard, Mrs. Frank McKenney, Mrs. O. E. Clemens, Mrs. R. E. Hewes, Mrs. V. Price Brown, Mrs. A. W. Beach, Mrs. Herman Paine and Mrs. C. M. Good. Next Monday the club will meet with Mrs. R. E. Hewes in Los Angeles.

VIOLINIST HAROLDI DEAD

Ignaz Haroldi, the well-known violinist, died at Altadena Monday after an illness of several months. Mr. Haroldi was a member of the Los Angeles musical colony and his death will come as a shock to his many friends. He was a pupil of Joachim, Wilhelmj and Rapoldi. As a pupil of Rapoldi he accomplished such notable successes that the king of Saxony presented Haroldi with a costly violin of splendid tone at a big ceremony in Dresden. This violin was given later by Haroldi to his favorite pupil, Miss Charlotte Buisseret, now Mrs. C. de Vidal Hundt, and the prized instrument will be played by Mrs. Hundt at the musician's funeral. Mr. Haroldi is survived by a widow and little daughter. The funeral services will be held at the undertaking rooms of Turner & Stevens, Pasadena, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Maude Morehouse of 133 Lomita avenue, who has been attending the Nazarene university of Pasadena, was quite badly hurt some time ago while playing at school, and has been confined to her home ever since. Friends of Miss Morehouse will be pleased to hear that she expects to be able to return to school after Thanksgiving.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH FATHER?

LADIES OF THE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATIONS TELL HOW MOTHER SHOULD BREAK FATHER IN TO BE COMPANION, TEACHER AND GUIDE TO HIS SONS

The September number of The Bulletin of the American Institute of Child Life contains the following suggestive and somewhat startling article:

What's the matter with father? The matter with father is, that he is an artful dodger. As a neighbor recently confessed to me, "When it comes to parental discipline, I either skid or skidoo." Father is a consulting rather than a practicing parent. He is like that curious South American lizard, which, when pursued, drops its tail in the pathway to interest the pursuer, while it escapes itself. Father makes it his conscientious business to give his family money and everything they need—except himself. "I never had a father," said a friend to me. "Did he die when you were quite young?" I asked with sympathy. "Oh, he isn't dead; he's a Shriner."

The other day we received in the office of the American Institute of Child Life a letter from a boy of thirteen, in which I read the following passage: "What can I do to get my father interested in baseball? There doesn't seem to be anything we can talk about when we are together, and you can imagine we are not very good friends." A few days later we had a letter from a mother who asked us this question: "Confidentially, is there any way to make a father feel that he has any responsibility in rearing his sons? The father in this home is a man of sterling character, high ideals and a man to be proud of. The only thing is, that the responsibility as treasurer of the hospital and chairman of the greens committee at the golf club has in the past eight years been paramount, and there has been no time for home life."

You can picture these situations. Two reputable men are fulfilling every responsibility in life except their principal one. One of them, at least, is trying to serve humanity, and yet he has a boy at home who is saying, "Do you want to serve humanity? I am it." We get a pleasant glimpse of a man who for eight years has never failed to win public approbation by keeping the sward smooth on the putting greens of his native town, but at the tremendous price of leaving his children half-orphaned.

It takes two people to bring up a child. Shy though he may be to confess it, father is really an admirable person to be a parent. He is more likely to be sympathetic with a pungent course of hygiene and exercise for his growing children; he ought to be more ingenious in arranging the playroom and making home-wrought occupations; he always has the freshness of approach of one who is not around all the time, and he is supposed to have that larger outlook which is so essential to the broadening lives of oncoming children. If a father would put his mind on his parental task, he could be just as successful as he is at what he calls his business. It may not earn him such a largely attended funeral, but it will be better for him after his funeral is over. For it is not only right for a father to have a son, but a son has a right to have him.

In these days when we are seeing as never before the shrinkage of fatherhood and the expansion of motherhood, it may be worth while to name some special reasons why fatherhood should not become obsolete. If any man is reading these words whose mind is open to the conviction that it may be his privilege to be something more than Santa Claus to his household, I shall be glad.

There are several things, besides food and clothes, which a child has a right to from his father.

He has a right to have his father to play with him. Is this too much to ask? You love your child enough to want to be friends with him, let us say. To be friends with anyone it is necessary that we do some things in companionship with him. Now your child cannot share what you are doing, so you must share what he is doing. And what is he doing? Mostly playing. That is what he is a child for. If he wasn't doing that, he wouldn't be a child. For a short time it may be possible for father to live on a pedestal, from which he descends, like Jehovah in the Old Testament, with a dictum or a discipline, as he feels disposed. But a perch is, at best, uncomfortable, and you cannot bring up a child entirely on what you tell him about how good you were when you were a boy. Some very good men have failed at just this point. The editor of a popular magazine for mothers is so touchy that his son can't live with him, and has to be sent away to school, and the child of the editor of one of our biggest religious weeklies was a prodigal. But an old Irishman, chief of police in Philadelphia, left a widower with a large family, once told a company of fathers that he had never known a child to go wrong in a home where the father played with his children for an hour after supper, and he added with justifiable satisfaction, "And I've tried it myself." To play with a child does not mean to use him as a plaything and then, when you have played with him until he is tired out, spank him because he is cross. It means to get down where he is, to do what is much harder than to be a child, namely, to become one. A small boy was once complaining that his father did everything except this, and he uttered this sensible complaint:

"I can't help thinking what great sport it would be if paw'd been born a little boy so he could play with me."

"Do you know your child's dreams?" was a question which flashed up at me from some ephemeral publication the other day. How many of us even know that our child has dreams? Yet his dreams are the seeds of his life's purposes, and we, excellent Pharisees that we are, have no right to thank God that we are not as other men if our children do not trust us enough to tell them. But they cannot trust us unless they know us.

Another thing a child has a right to ask from his father is that he should teach him. Even when we are driven to our last cowardly defense, "My wife brings up my children to my satisfaction," we have to acknowledge that there are some things which a woman cannot well teach her sons. One of these is how to work. The problem of work for children in this country is today more important than the problem of play. I sympathize heartily with the agitation against child labor and in behalf of playgrounds, but I have little patience with the idea that because a child ought not to be employed publicly and for wages until he is through school, therefore he is to have no chance to learn through experience that work is more fun than play, and that because he has a playground, he has no need of a workshop. Rufus Stanley of Elmira found in his original work club for boys that his lads stuck to their garden patches and chicken coops amid the distraction of the Fourth of July and the Columbus day parade. But how can a mother teach a sizeable boy how to work? He doesn't love sewing and dish-washing, and she doesn't know the difference between a spoke-shave and a safety razor. "Wait till father comes home and we'll fix it for you," said a small boy of six proudly to his mother in a home where father had discovered that his son had other uses for his hands than to keep them clean.

A father ought to teach his boy how to spend money. It is a difficult art, as the man himself knows. The most foolish man in this country is the money-maker who endows his immature children with a license to be spendthrifts. Next to him in folly is the man in comfortable circumstances who continues to give his high school son the same fifty-cent allowance that he received when he was a child, because "he doesn't know the value of money." The former will probably soon foist upon the public a son of the type euphemistically known as "chicken-snatchers," and the latter, subject to semi-weekly hold-ups from his impoverished offspring, will wonder vaguely why he cannot think of a financial arrangement with them which is as fair and businesslike as he has with his other junior partners. For that is what growing children are—our junior partners—and when a boy is old enough to have a fancy in neckties, he is old enough to have a budget and buy all his own clothes.

One thing more that a father should teach his sons is an intelligent and chivalrous attitude toward womanhood. Our institute received one thousand letters from mothers last year—mothers, mind you!—asking how they should teach the facts and laws of sex to their children, chiefly to their sons. What a comment on the pusillanimity of American fatherhood! Aside from the proper reticence of mothers, every man knows that here is a whole realm of feeling into which no woman can enter, and which only a man ought to try to interpret. One attitude of mind common to women, for example, is that immorality is so physically perilous and so morally repugnant that a boy needs only information to this effect to keep him pure. Only a father can realize that it is hard to scare a boy by any peril

OUR NEW THEATRE

WALTER F. JENSEN OPENS BEAU- TIFUL NEW PLAYHOUSE ON MONDAY EVE, NOV. 30TH

The residents of Glendale have in the new and handsome structure on Brand boulevard, for the exploitation of the moving picture, one of the finest theaters to be found on the coast. No expense has been spared to make this a model theater of its kind and in many respects it is distinctive. Its equipment has been accomplished in such a manner as to give this playhouse conveniences peculiar to itself. Added to this is the beauty in every detail of construction. Adequate ventilating and heat have been supplied and a noticeable feature in the interior is the lighting system, which is soft and subdued. The second most notable feature is the richness and beauty of the draperies and furnishings. The aisles are wide and prettily carpeted. There are seats to accommodate 800 persons, every one so placed as to afford an unobstructed view of the screen. One splendid thing about the seats is their unusual width and the seats in the loges are large and comfortable. The interior is finished in delicate colors, all blending in fine harmony, and throughout the theater the same color scheme prevails. The lobby is large and well appointed, allowing for a generous display of paper for coming and current attractions. The stage is large enough and fully equipped with magnificent scenery for putting on any legitimate production and vaudeville. Dressing-rooms have been provided for any talent which may be employed. In the fine big operating-room can be found the most up-to-date and complete fittings, among which are two machines, the very best to be obtained.

The day is past when poor sensational photoplays will be endured. The time has come when pictures must be instructive and entertaining, projected properly and surrounded with appropriate settings. To that end it has been arranged to put on only the choicest productions from the Famous Players' Film company, which includes all the well-known and popular stars. Productions of this company are accorded the distinction of being the best in pictures exhibited today. The program will be changed three times a week. In order to give the pictures their full strength and understanding, an orchestra will furnish appropriate musical numbers and, in addition, there is to be a soloist who will render selections at each performance. A concert will be given every evening for fifteen minutes before the pictures start. Two performances will be given each evening, continuously, the first beginning promptly at six forty-five, and there will also be the popular Saturday matinee. It has been decided that the formal opening of this beautiful playhouse be set for Monday evening, November 30. The attraction to be presented will be announced later in the week.

Last, but not least, this picture theater beautiful is yet without a name, and the management have conceived the idea that it would be a pleasure to have the citizens of Glendale take a part in choosing a name appropriate for this handsome new structure. Plans are being arranged that we will tell you of later whereby every resident of Glendale may suggest a name and for the best one suggested twenty-five dollars in gold will be the reward.

Equipped with every known modern appliance, this splendid picture house is as up-to-date for ease, comfort and safety as any theater in Los Angeles. The management have their reputation and investment at stake and will always be in advance to show only the very best in attractions. We intend to deliver the goods and believe we will receive your good will and patronage.

BENJAMIN F. BOORMAN

TRAVELING SALESMAN PASSED AWAY MONDAY WHILE AT WORK IN GARDEN

Benjamin F. Boorman, 57 years of age, a traveling salesman for a candy concern, passed away suddenly at his home, 1410 West First street, on Monday afternoon, November 23, 1914, probably some time between 4 and 4:30.

Some time ago Mr. Boorman suffered from a stroke and lay unconscious for some time. Monday Mrs. Boorman was in Los Angeles and the daughter was in school. Upon returning from school the daughter found the doors of the dwelling house unlocked and thought her mother had neglected to lock the doors before leaving for the city. When the mother arrived home later she stated that she had locked the doors; then it became evident that Mr. Boorman had been at home some time during the afternoon.

Usually he returned home from the city about 6 o'clock.

Not having made his appearance up to the time of the arrival of the 8 o'clock car, the mother and daughter notified Mr. Frank Adams, a near neighbor, of Mr. Boorman's absence. Upon making a search in the yard he was found lying dead with a spade in hand, he having been working in the garden at the time he was stricken.

The county coroner will conduct an examination Wednesday forenoon. The funeral will take place from the Pulliam undertaking rooms Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made in Forest Lawn cemetery.

AUTUMN DANCANT AND CARD PARTY

Among many delightful affairs of recent date in Glendale was the dancing and card party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Keleher, 228 North Louise street.

The parlors in the Keleher home were transformed into a setting of golden blossoms with background of greenery. The mantel was banked with golden glow and chrysanthemums festooned with ferns, smilax, green and yellow tulle, while great clusters of huge golden chrysanthemums nodded from wall baskets and vases. The chandeliers were trimmed with smilax, green and yellow tulle. The breakfast-room that was turned over to the buffet luncheon was also a golden glow amidst background of greenery. The spacious porch rendered a scene of beauty with its Japanese lanterns swinging among many ferns and potted plants.

The musical numbers furnished by the orchestra were especially enjoyed by everyone present and were agreeably interspersed by vocal selections.

Among the guests from Los Angeles were Mr. and Mrs. W. Labrey, Mr. and Mrs. M. Mancha, Miss Ida Jordan, Mrs. K. Hunt, Mr. F. Frankenstein, Mr. B. Allen, Mr. J. Boylan, Mr. H. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. N. Jack, Mr. and Mrs. J. Reynolds, Miss A. Marian, from Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Faries, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Harrod, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Shickler, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lockwood, Dr. and Mrs. Bachmann, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. G. Melford, Miss F. Baird, Miss Vera Englehart, Mr. S. M. Clark, Mr. Leroy Bachmann and Mr. Frank Ladell.

BASEBALL BOYS THANKFUL

The Glendale baseball boys return hearty thanks to the merchants of this city for their kind donations, which will run the team through the winter months, and the boys express the hope that these dollars will be returned to the donors manifold.

The Glendale team went to the Palms recently and defeated that team with a score of 5 to 3. This was the first game that the Palms team has ever lost. Bidwell of the Glendale team had them at his mercy throughout the game. The Glendale boys will go to Pasadena next week.

SIREN WHISTLE SAVES LIVES

The nitro plant of the Aetna Powder company at Aetna, Ind., was blown up Monday, a great deal of damage done to the village of Aetna, much of Gary made windowless and even parts of Chicago rocked by the force of the explosion. No lives were lost, because of the fact that when the nitro-glycerine mixture sputtered and fumed in the nitro plant, the great siren whistle was blown and the workmen, having been taught the meaning of the signal, rushed from the building to safety. When they returned after the explosion, there was nothing but a hole in the ground where the plant had been.

MANY ATTEND TURKEY SMOKER GIVEN BY ELKS

About three hundred Elks attended the turkey smoker given at the local Elks' clubrooms Monday night. Although it was regular meeting night, the big attraction was the giving away of eighty-seven turkeys, the largest bird, which weighed twenty-seven pounds, being won by C. Wilcox of Fillmore.

An event not on the program was the theft of a fine goose which was displayed in a crate on Broadway in front of the clubrooms. The committee in charge say they will give a bronze medal to the person discovering the robbers, who it is supposed took the goose for a "joke."

Many attended the meeting from Burbank, San Fernando, Eagle Rock, Fillmore and surrounding towns.

SURPRISE MRS. COCKSHUTT

Mrs. Alfred Cockshutt was the happy victim of a surprise Saturday evening when a number of friends gathered at her home, 509 West Eighth street, uninvited, in honor of her birthday. The lady was the recipient of a number of pretty gifts, among them a Columbia Grafonola, a gift from her husband. Refreshments were served during the evening and the hours passed quickly as the assembled company tripped the light fantastic.

QUEEN ESTHERS ENTERTAINED

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the West Glendale M. E. church entertained the Queen Esther society at the home of Mrs. S. A. Davis, 525 South Central avenue, on Saturday afternoon. The decorations were yellow chrysanthemums and violets, in honor of the colors of the Queen Esthers, which are purple and gold. The reception committee met each girl at the door and presented her with a bunch of violets tied with gold ribbon.

The following entertaining program was given:

Piano solo by Mrs. Johnson.
"Greeting to the Queen Esther Girls by the Home Missionary Society," Mrs. Hoskyn.

"Response of the Queen Esthers," by their president, Ruth Spafford.

Reading by Mrs. Van Leuven.
Elizabeth Cadd gave her report of the Pasadena district convention, to which she was a delegate from the Queen Esther circle.

Miss Midcalf sang a solo.
The girls gave a drill on Queen Esther work and there was a talk by Miss Brode from the Kansas City training school for deaconesses.

Refreshments were served and the guests all declared they had had a lovely time.

Y. P. B. SOCIAL

On Monday evening the members of the Y. P. B. and their friends had a very enjoyable social at the home of Miss Vivian Engle, 340 West Fifth street. A short program of music and speaking was enjoyed, after which games were played and refreshments were served to about 25 young people. Miss Engle was assisted during the evening by her mother, Mrs. Jno. A. Engle, and sister, Mrs. Logan Fairchild.

The early Christmas shopper is busy at it—and happy at it, too.

The turkeys hardly look upon the way Thanksgiving is observed as "safe and sane."

Announcements

The ladies of the First Methodist church will give a thank offering entertainment at the church on next Tuesday evening. Everybody is welcome.

Miss Ruby Dale of 1307½ Hawthorne street announces that owing to the approaching holiday season, she will not give her usual monthly recital, but will postpone it till Dec. 12th. This will be the only recital given until the last of January.

If any of the members of the P. T. A. of the Broadway school know of any needy family who should be helped for Thanksgiving and Christmas, will you kindly notify Mrs. R. W. Meeker, 300 East Colorado boulevard, as she is chairman of the committee to attend to such wants.

The ladies of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church are preparing a box of toys to be sent to the Yuma Indians for Christmas. If you have any toys in good condition, money or anything to make children happy at Christmas time, please leave them at the home of Mrs. C. W. Ingledue, 725 West Third street, before Saturday of this week, as they must be in at the First Methodist church of Los Angeles by November 30th.

This Wednesday afternoon will be your last opportunity to leave contributions at the Jones & Evans store building, Second and Brand, for the poor sufferers of Belgium. The committee of the philanthropic section of the Tuesday Afternoon club urges the people of Glendale to help them make this a truly Thanksgiving offering. Imagine ourselves in like condition. How thankful and appreciative we would be to have others think of us in time of need. Let the children contribute their mite to make others happy.

MRS. VIVIAN R. WEBB, GLENDALE PIANIST AND TEACHER

Although a comparatively newcomer among the professional musicians of Glendale, Mrs. Webb has already been heard as a soloist at numerous club, church and social gatherings. She has gathered about her a group of earnest young music students who attest to the devotion of their teacher by their careful and artistic playing.

Being an instructor whose aim is to make musicians of her pupils, as well as performers, Mrs. Webb's work is based on broad educational lines. She always takes pleasure in explaining the work to the mothers and aiding them by many suggestions so that they may make the daily practice period of the pupil as profitable as possible.

Mrs. Webb is a post-graduate of the Des Moines Musical college, an exponent and certified teacher of the celebrated A. K. Virgil method and has rounded out her musical studies by a sojourn in Vienna, where she studied under Marie Wittels, concert pianist and assistant to the world-famous master, Leschetizky.

Regarding terms, class work, etc., call at Mrs. Webb's studio, 209 North Maryland, or phone Glendale 922J.

BAZAAR AND DINNER

The women of the Episcopal church will hold a bazaar at the Masonic temple on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, December 3. A 35-cent chicken dinner will be served from 6 until 8. Music and dancing in the evening. 86-87-90-92-93

THE HOE AND THE DOUGH

The man with the hoe has been recognized by every age and nation as a fundamental source of prosperity, and while our literature abounds with eulogiums in his behalf, the half has never been told.

But the man with the dough is equally as important at this period of our growth and development as the man with the hoe. Attempts have been made to discredit him, but when it comes to building factories and railroads and large industrial enterprises, which are necessary to our prosperity, we must face the man with money, and our destinies as a nation of influence and power are largely in his hands.

It takes the man with the hoe and the man with the dough combined to make civilization, and one is inter-dependent upon the other.

A Los Angeles salesman tells of a stay made by him at a middle western hotel, where he observed an old-fashioned roller towel.

"Say," asked the Angeleno of a man in the washroom, "don't the owner of this hotel know that it is against the law of the state of Illinois to use roller towels now?"

"He knows it right enough," said the man addressed, "but that law wasn't passed when this towel was put up."

TROPICO

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Damon of Central avenue entertained as their over-Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cressey of Highland Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Meeker and children, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Blackburn and son Robbs, will motor to Corona Wednesday, where they will be the guests Thursday of Dr. Blackburn's sister, Mrs. Byrket, and also enjoy the auto races.

A very meager account was received Monday evening of a tragedy that occurred on a ranch near Lankershim about 6 o'clock that evening. Miss Darlington, the 20-year-old daughter of Mrs. Darlington, while picking grapes on her mother's ranch, was shot and killed by William Hartnell, a married man of about 35 years of age. Hartnell after shooting Miss Darlington then killed himself. No motive for the tragedy is advanced by the mother and sister of the murdered girl. Hartnell had been arrested by Constable D. R. Fullerton last Friday for non-support of his wife and three children, who are residing in Los Angeles, and his trial was to have been held on Wednesday morning in Los Angeles. Coroner Hartwell will hold an inquest today.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lafferty and Mrs. Lawrence Turrentine of Los Angeles, Miss Lucile Middaugh of Hollywood and Mr. Frank Littell, Miss Rae Davis, Miss Barbara Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown and Mr. Harry Brown, all of Glendale, and Mrs. M. S. Madison, who is the house guest of Mrs. Brown at present.

Mrs. C. H. Allison of 1029 Fairview avenue entertained as her house guests during the past week Mrs. Tom Pitcher and four children of Halfmoon Bay, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ehreshman of Lorraine street, with their children and Mrs. Ehreshman's sister, Mrs. Walter Fine of Sacramento, who is the house guest of her sister, were guests of Mrs. T. W. Sampson of 1652 Ruth street last Sunday.

Mrs. K. E. Hall has rented one of the Hammond Lumber company's houses at 1633 Ruth street for a home and has taken possession.

Mr. Leland Duncan of 1600 Ruth street entertained as his house guest for the week-end Mr. Hunter Graham of Los Angeles.

Miss Marjory Duncan of 1600 Ruth street entertained as her guests at dinner and for the day last Sunday Miss Marie Croft, a noted pianist of Los Angeles, and her brother, Mr. Louis Croft, a violinist who is also recognized in the musical profession.

Mrs. B. T. Burr and two children of 823 Campbell street will leave tomorrow for Lindsay, Cal., where they will spend Thanksgiving day with Mrs. Burr's sister, Mrs. George Delano of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Green of Los Angeles, former resident of North Glendale, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Allison of 1029 Fairview avenue.

The Misses Wright of 1649 Ruth street are entertaining as their house guest for the week Miss Mary Bumgarner of Long Beach.

Perseverance is a great element of success. If you only knock long enough and loud enough at the gate you are sure to wake up somebody.—Longfellow.
